

K-LOVE ministers to me and my young family. We live in a small town, with no positive local programming. I trust K-LOVE with its encouraging and faith-based message. I believe it is in the public interest of my community to have K-LOVE because it supports us in our faith and convictions, as well as keeps us plugged into Christian teachings around the country. My family and many of our neighbors would be disappointed to lose K-LOVE to other programs that did not offer the same "safe haven" for families. Most of us would not listen to the new stations at all, thus being a lose situation for everyone.
